The Weekly Ledger

R. M. WHITE, Editor and Proprietor
R. M. WHITE, Associate Editor

Now is the time to drag the roads.

This 1908 fair should be the best ever.

Missouri weather cannot be surpassed.

What about paving Promenade street?

Jefferson street railroad crossing should be paved at once.

The Ledger wishes you a happy and prosperous New Year.

It is time to get to work for the year.

If you are going to sell goods during January you should advertise.

This population of Mexico should increase to at least 6000 during 1908.

It pays to drag the roads—just try the split log drag and you will get results.

The Weekly Ledger is only $1.00 per year including postage when paid in advance.

Every merchant in Mexico should immediately become a member of the Retail Merchants Association of this city.

This first New Year resolution a Chinaman makes is to square up all his debts and pay in advance. Try it.

PATRONIZE YOUR HOME PAPERS if you desire to show your appreciation of what they try to do for your town, county and state.

All the corporations in the country are united—none on a candidate—but on the purpose of defeating the Roosevelt policies and preventing further prosecution of the trusts.

This Mexico Ledger is delighted that the city will now be properly lighted. This is one of the improvements the ledger has been standing for.

A PROTRACTED meeting will start at the Methodist church in this city the first Sunday in February. Rev. McConnell, the evangelist will assist the pastor.

ATTEND the Mexico Business Men's meeting at the Court House Friday afternoon at three o'clock. All who are interested in the prosperity of Mexico should attend.

The Editor of the Ledger desires to especially thank its country correspondents for news letters during 1907. Much of the popularity of the Ledger is due to the loyalty of its country correspondents, who cover the field thoroughly every week.

MEXICO merchants should start the new year right by arranging for advertising space in the daily and weekly Ledger for every week during the year. The Mexico merchants who advertise will testify that such an investment will prove profitable.

The W. C. T. U. has arranged for Hon. C. M. Hay, of Fulton, to make eight speeches in Audrain county, outside of Mexico, during the local option campaign, shortly to open. Mrs. Emma Shaver, of Jackson, Mo., will also speak for ten days in the county. Miss Shaver is one of the best organizers there is in the country.

This government building to be erected in Mexico must be on a corner with an alley in the rear and with a vacant lot adjoining. There are several pieces of property of this character in Mexico, which can be secured at reasonable prices. It is the policy of the postoffice department to locate government buildings near the depot everything else being equal.

In the daily Ledger will be found the advertisement of John W. Howell, real estate, loan and insurance agent. Mr. Howell is reliable in every sense of the word and will give your business prompt attention. Read his advertisement closely and then consult him with reference to your insurance and real estate business. It will pay you.

J. J. Hicks, principal of the Mexico consolidated public school, is home from Sedalia, where he attended the State Teachers Association meeting. Professor Hicks says the Mexico school was the only one which exhibited industrial work. This work was greatly complimented, and inspired others to try to introduce the same in their schools. The Mexico schools, both white and colored, are the best in the State.

This ruling of "Uncle Sam" with reference to adding 50 cents per year postage to weekly papers not paid in advance means that unless you pay for your weekly paper in advance you must pay the government fifty-two cents a year postage. This extra postage does not go to the newspapers, but to the government. The Mexico weekly Ledger is $1.00 per year without any postage when paid in advance.

The City Council at its meeting Monday night unanimously passed an ordinance forbidding policemen to drink intoxicating drinks while on duty, also forbidding them to enter saloons, except in their line of duty.

The Council went into executive session regarding the report that the night policemen were playing billiards while seven stores were robbed Christmas night. We understand a committee was appointed to investigate this matter and report to the Council.

This retail merchants of Mexico are going to make their organization permanent and will have a routing big meeting within the next few days, when every merchant in Mexico is cordially invited to be present and join the organization. This association is going to prove very beneficial in the way of bringing trade to Mexico.

J. P. GALE, of Sedalia, Mo., is sending for the Weekly Ledger one year in advance, says that he has been a subscriber for thirty-three years and that the Ledger continues to grow better every year. The Ledger has a right to be proud of its large and growing subscription list, but feels especially kindly toward the large number of subscribers, who have been taking the Ledger and paying for it ever since it came under the present management in 1875.

A CHRISTIAN NATION.

Twenty-five per cent of our People is Favor of Sabbath Observance.

Your editorial in The Republic of December 26 entitled, "The Secular Sunday," is a very conclusive answer to the wild and grotesque ill-considered attacks of other metropolitan newspapers in St. Louis and Kansas City upon Judge Wallace's activity in enforcing the laws of Missouri regarding Sabbath observance.

Those who are attacking Sabbath observance and anti-alcohol legislation as sectarian were not fully aware of the fact that, as Justice Brewer, of the United States Supreme Court, has officially declared, in an opinion which received the entire concurrence of that learned bench, this country is a Christian nation. The very preamble of our Constitution so declares; the appointment of chaplains for all legislative assembly and public institutions is a distinct recognition of this fact. It is true we have in this country absolutely divorced state and church, and have provided in our Constitution that no State can pass any law in support or aid of any religion, but this does not carry with it the implication that the great majority of our ruling population who are in sympathy with the great moral principles upheld by the Christian religion, and which constitute the most effective safeguard of our liberties, shall not have the power to establish such of these moral principles as affect commerce and not be held by proper legislation. Thus, we have statutes for Sunday observance, prohibiting blasphemy, regulating the sale of liquor, punishing drunkenness, etc.; all of which laws have their origin in the religious sentiment of the people, and none of which are known in "wide open" communities, where there is almost a total absence of religion.

The Christian, both Protestant and Catholic, together with the Jews, represent, with their sympathies as well as their communications, at least 75 per cent of our population. They all agree that one day in seven must be set aside as a holy day or rest day. They may disagree as to what day that shall be, but the majority have decreed that day to be Sunday, and the united religious sentiment of this country so firmly uphold that decree that a newspaper which undertakes to attack it or to suggest its abolishment makes itself quite ridiculous.

Good From Rube Dill.
Cottonwood Springs, Jan. 1, 1908.—After thanking my many friends for their many kindnesses to me during the year just closed, I take this opportunity, through the great Oracle of Truth to say to them, that if the prohibitionists will let us live through the year 1908, we will next week and so on, hand out to the Ledger readers more food for thought than we have endeavored to do during the year 1907. We have much good driftwood on hand and the wise old owl is ready to fly his kite at call of the bugle. And now again wishing my friends and the Ledger's many friends a happy and prosperous year, we will close the book with the Editor's motto: "To our pride in the past, and our hope for the future let us add vigor and life to the living present."

R. S. Dill, Editor.

POLE EXPECTS A HARD FIGHT FOR THE TOWN.

Governor Tells Friends He Will Wage Campaign in Every County.

St. Louis, Dec. 31.—Gov. Fox told close friends that he had decided to announce his candidacy for United States Senator in the latter part of January.

"I anticipate a long and hard fought campaign for the senatorship," the Governor is quoted as saying. "Senator Stone is able and resourceful and there is no doubt he has a big following everywhere. It is my intention to go into every county of the State and to make as earnest and active a canvass as the duties of my office will permit."

STONE COUNTS ON CITY.
A politician who called on the Governor Friday said that Senator Stone's friends figured on carrying St. Louis by 25,000 majority.

He declared that the Jefferson and St. Louis Democratic clubs and the entire City Hall organization, representing 3000 office holders, would be arrayed against him. The Governor received this chilling intelligence with a smile.

"That's what they said in 1904," remarked the Governor dryly after his caller had departed.

Gov. Fox's St. Louis supporters say that he will devote most of his time to the country districts, leaving St. Louis, Kansas City and St. Joseph until near the close of the campaign.

According to the Fox tabulation, the Governor ought to get an even break with Stone in St. Louis, while a few believe he will capture the St. Louis vote by a rousing majority.

"We realize," said one of the Governor's advisers, "that the most important interests will support Stone. Gov. Fox can expect nothing from the liquor interests or the corporations. He has fought both and each is certain to oppose him with every weapon at its disposal."

"It is estimated that the number of voters controlled in St. Louis through the liquor element is 10,000 and that the public service corporations can add 10,000 more to this list."

"These two influences were operating against the Governor in 1904, but not to the extent that they are now," the adviser continued.

Gov. Fox is said to have been assured that William J. Bryan will take no part in the Missouri senatorial contest. Bryan, in past campaigns, always has supported the Stone cause. Next year, he has given assurances he will keep hands off. This means, political judges contend, that Senator Stone will be deprived of valuable aid, for Bryan helped the senator sweep many counties in 1902, before Congressmen Clark and De Armond withdrew from the race.
